How long after I register until a domain is active?

After a domain registration is processed, it is usually active in as little as fifteen minutes. When paying by credit card, the registration will be processed on the same day. When paying by check, the domain will be registered once payment is received.

https://support.lexiconn.com/kb/questions/94/